TREATY DOESN'T PROVIDE THAT ALL RICH MINES IN SILESIA GO TO GERMANS--BRIAND

One Man Shot, Headhouse Burned In The Battle Zone

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—Conditions in the Tug River section of West Virginia were discussed at a conference today between Secretary Davis and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. An official announcement was withheld, but it was indicated that Mr. Davis might attempt to settle the difference between the miners and the operators which culminated in fighting a week ago.

Mr. Lewis said the miners were willing to meet representatives of the coal mine operators in an effort to bring about a peaceful settlement. "Peace will not be attained in Mingo county until the operators recognize the fundamental and recognized rights of the miner to belong to a union and to meet in peaceful assembly to discuss the problems and to bargain collectively," Mr. Lewis said, adding that the trouble in West Virginia was caused by privately employed detectives.

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., May 19.—Sixty-nine citizens of Williamson, were today deputized as state policemen and will serve under the county authorities to preserve order in the mining region along the Tug River. This action was taken because West Virginia has no national guard and its force of regular state police is limited to about 80 officers and men.

After four days of comparative quiet, the region became active early today. John Tussing, a Rawl, was shot at a point opposite the Lick Creek tent colony and the head house of a mine at West Eagle was burned with a loss of $2,500.

Tussing, according to reports reaching here, was shot while he, and Charles Tuller, superintendent of the Lick Creek tent colony and Rawl, were on their way from Rawl to Williamson in a motor car. They abandoned the car and hid in the woods until daylight, when Tuller made his way to Williamson.

Alexander Bishop, president of the Mingo county court, who is interested in the War Eagle mine, has gone to the scene of the fire with blood hounds.

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., May 19.—Several hundred citizens of Mingo county were ready today to answer the call of the authorities and take up their duties as special deputy sheriffs should they be needed. This course of action was decided upon at a meeting held in the court house here last night.

This is the first anniversary of the shooting at Matewan, in which seven private detectives and three residents of the town were killed after miners had been evicted from houses owned by the Stowe Mountain Coal Company. Since that time the industrial warfare in the upper Tug River valley has broken out on a number of occasions, most seriously a week ago when a number of mining towns were fired upon from the surrounding mountains.

Refusal of the federal government to send troops until every resource of the state and county authorities had been exhausted brought about last night's meeting.

It was persistently rumored that shooting from the mountains would be resumed today and in order to cope with this situation, should it develop, leading business and professional men determined to give their personal aid in Sheriff Pinckard and Captain Brooks, commanding the state police in this section.

National guardsmen held the Kentucky side of the river and gave assurance to the authorities here that they would do all in their power to assist in maintaining order.

HARDING WANTS CHANGES IN PEACE RESOLUTION TO GUARD U. S. RIGHTS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—President Harding wants the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace between the United States and Germany passed by the House but he has found it necessary to approve certain changes in it from the form in which it was passed by the Senate.

The changes are fundamental and will come as a surprise to those Germans residing in America who had believed the Knox resolution would automatically end the powers of the Alien Property custodian and that the American government hereafter would simply hold the German property without exercising any of the broad powers of sale or supervision which were entrusted to it by the trading with the Enemy Act.

The language of the Knox resolution as passed by the Senate simply says that all enemy property now in the possession of the American government "shall be retained." But it develops that the Alien Property custodian, Colonel Thomas W. Miller, advised President Harding and Attorney General that certain German interests were of the impression that as soon as the Knox resolution was passed the American government would be prohibited from selling any German property or otherwise administering it.

Hold Property as a Club
The fact is the Trading with the Enemy Act permits the Alien property custodian to sell at any time any German property held by our government. Sometimes when the property is deteriorating or some other potent reason arises making a sale necessary, the Alien property custodian disposes of the property and holds the proceeds in trust. All this money and unsold property is held by the Alien property custodian until Congress specifically provides for its return to Germany.

There are other amendments of the Knox resolution which are deemed necessary in order to safeguard American rights. The Alien property custodian has been asked to appear before the House Committee on Foreign Relations. The principal change is the addition of a phrase which will provide that enemy property "shall be retained and administered as now provided by law, and shall be subject to disposition made thereby." Until such time as the German government has by treaty with the United States made suitable provision for the satisfaction of American claims. Thus the amendment would absolutely keep in (Continued on Page Eight)

FRENCH PREMIER REPLIES TO MR. LLOYD GEORGE

Frenchman Cannot Restore Order In Upper Silesia; Poles Practice Cruelties

PARIS, May 19.—(By the A. P.) France insists upon the execution of the Versailles treaty in drawing the frontier line between Germany and Poland in Upper Silesia. Premier Briand declared last night upon receiving newspaper correspondents. He reiterated statements he made to newspaper men last Saturday, when, answering the address of Prime Minister Lloyd George before the house of commons on Friday, he declared that invasion of Silesia by German troops would not be tolerated by France.

M. Briand said he did not see the desirability of meeting Lloyd George before all the documents relating to the Silesian plebiscite had been received from the interallied commission at Oppeln. The Premier, whose statement was considered as an indication of the trend of his impending address in the chamber of deputies would take said:

"I have nothing to say, except to maintain strictly my viewpoint that France in all this controversy places herself on the sole ground of the Versailles treaty. There is no other basis of discussion possible. On the other hand, France and England can converse only as equals, and Mr. Lloyd George, himself, will agree to this when the misunderstanding is dispelled."

"I, too, want to see the treaty carried out," said the premier to the correspondent of the London Daily Mail, "but there is nothing in the treaty which stipulates that all the rich mining districts in Silesia must go to the Germans, while the Poles will get what is left. I do not wish to enter into any controversy with Mr. Lloyd George, and I stand by what I said to you correspondents last Saturday."

The premier's statement may have been edited by declarations made by Prime Minister Lloyd George in London yesterday, in which the prime minister asserted that the settlement of the Silesian question must be settled by the allies, and not by Adalbert Korfanty, Polish insurgent leader, who recently has taken over virtually all of Upper Silesia.

When the chamber of deputies re-opened today after a recess of three weeks, the Briand cabinet was expected to be the center of a concerted attack. Friends of the ministry asserted it would receive a great majority when the question of a vote of confidence was put; but its opponents declared there would be no such majority of 423 to 29, which was given Mr. Briand before he went to London to participate in the meeting of the supreme allied council that sent the reparations ultimatum to the German government.

Premier Briand had declared he would not make a statement until he had heard all the interpellations, when he would make a comprehensive reply. It was not believed the putting of the vote of confidence would be reached before Saturday.

TAFT MAY SUCCEED WHITE ON HIGH COURT

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The choice of a successor to Edward Douglas White, as chief justice of the United States, was one of the most widely discussed subjects today in official circles. Although the speculation centered chiefly about the name of former President William Howard Taft, there were many indications that President Harding was far from a decision and might find the selection a difficult one.

One of the first suggestions in private discussions among members of the senate, which must confirm the nomination, was that Mr. Taft had disqualified himself by insisting when he was chief executive that no man over sixty years old ever should be appointed to the highest court. He will be 61 years old in September.

All indications pointed to considerable delay in making the appointment. Mr. Taft is known to have been long under consideration by President Harding as a possible chief justice. Many of the former president's friends already have started to bring influence to bear to have him appointed to the vacant chief justiceship.

Another whose name has been linked repeatedly with the highest judicial post is Secretary Hughes, of the state department, a member of the court until he retired in 1916 to accept the Republican nomination for the presidency.

In some quarters there have been suggestions that a temporary solution of the problem might be reached by the promotion of one of the present justices. That would leave a vacancy to which the president could appoint some man whose experience he does not consider qualifies him now to be BERLIN, May 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Order can not be restored in Upper Silesia while General Gorond, or any other Frenchman, commands the inter-allied forces to whom is entrusted the execution of the Versailles treaty, said Countess Scherren-Thoss, who arrived here yesterday with other refugees who had escaped from the area affected by the Polish insurrection in the plebiscite area. The countess is a daughter of Henry White, member of the American delegation at the Versailles peace conference.

"When an Englishman or an Italian is given command there," she declared, "Promises made by Adalbert Korfanty and the French mean nothing to Upper Silesians, who regard Korfanty's offers to withdraw as a ruse to get the German volunteers to disband." The plebiscite held in Upper Silesia was a bitter disappointment to Korfanty and his supporters. Because the peasants spoke Polish, it was assumed by Polish leaders that they were Polish sympathizers, but the vote showed otherwise, and Korfanty was used to upset the results of the plebiscite.

"In the country overrun by the Poles persons of all classes who voted in favor of Germany were persecuted. School masters, in particular, were attacked. At Rauden, near Rathbor, they tortured a school master to death and subjected his daughters to horrible indignities. The aged duke and duchess of Rathbor were robbed and mistreated, but finally were saved by Italian officers."

"After plundering the houses of land owners and peasants, the Poles burned and destroyed what they could not carry away. Women and children fled before their advance in terror, having been given no protection by the French."

Ellis Island Under Strict Quarantine

NEW YORK, May 19.—Ellis Island, through which the bulk of the country's immigration passes, today was placed under strict quarantine because of the death yesterday from typhus of Andrew Steinbeck, a 50-year-old man. The 1,700 immigrants were removed to the detention station at Hoffman's Island.

Commissioner of Immigration William J. Quinn announced that the island would not be reopened for 48 hours. During that time arriving immigrants will be held on the ships that bring them.

Officials could not tell whether the Steinbeck boy contracted the disease on ship board or at the station. His death was the first from typhus reported here for several weeks.

It was decided to remove the immigrants to Hoffman Island so that their quarters on Ellis Island could be fumigated.

British Press Endorses Lloyd George's Stand

LONDON, May 19.—Newspapers of this city today showed greater unanimity in endorsing Prime Minister Lloyd George's declaration of the British attitude toward Poland and Silesia, made yesterday, than they did his almost sensational statements before the house of commons last Friday. There were in some instances references to the judiciousness of reiterating Great Britain's viewpoint at this moment regarding a point already made sufficiently clear. The Morning Post was alone in dissenting from the prime minister's declarations, and in an editorial bearing the caption: "Smashing the Entente," the newspaper maintained its antagonism against Mr. Lloyd George's stand, which it declared to be "fantastic and absurd."

While expressing the opinion that yesterday's statement by the prime minister was "rather gratuitous and superfluous," the Daily News repeated its recent approval of the prime minister's views and rebuked French newspapers which discussed the relations between Great Britain and France in terms admirably calculated to create, rather than to avert, a rift between the two countries.

Glover Appointed By Harding
WASHINGTON—W. Irving Glover, New York, was nominated by President Harding to be third assistant postmaster general.

Two Testify Purpera Did The Shooting

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—Louis Komer was to take the stand for the state today in the trial of Sam Purpera, charged with the first degree murder of Wilfred C. Sly. Komer, who is awaiting trial for the same crime, testified last week against Frank Motto, another member of the bandit gang, who was convicted and sentenced to the electric chair.

Purpera, who admits participating in the May 10 robbery, in which Sly was killed, will take the stand in his own defense today, in an effort to break down the testimony of two women witnesses who yesterday swore they saw him fire the shots that killed Sly and G. K. Fanner in a payroll robbery last December.

Mrs. Mary Purpera, mother of the bandit, may be the only other witness called by the state. Her testimony, it is said, will bear on the age of her son, which the defense states is but seventeen.

How the Price of $13.95 on 30x3 1/2-inch Firestone Tires Was Made Possible

It is in this period of much-needed economy that the full benefit of Firestone's development can best be recognized.

The advantage of having two great individual plants has permitted specialization in the highest degree. Plant No. 1 is devoted to the production of Firestone cords—tires that are accepted as the highest development of tire building. Tire repair men who judge values best, class it as the sturdiest carcass made. Forty-seven car manufacturers have adopted Firestone cords as regular equipment during 1921.

Plant No. 2 was erected for the sole purpose of making 30x3 1/2 Non-Skid fabric tires. •With a daily capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes, this plant permits refined production on a quantity basis. Its output was 13,700 tires per day during April.

It is such basic economies that enable Firestone to make a price of $13.95 on this standard 30x3 1/2 tire—the lowest price ever made on a standard tire.

Firestone dealers help make this $13.95 price possible by accepting a smaller profit per sale on this fast selling tire.

We see today the fulfilling of what Firestone men have worked for—public support in soundly ratifying the Firestone standard of "Most Miles per Dollar."

HOLY REDEEMER RECITAL IS PLEASING

An exceptionally large audience attended the musical given by the Holy Redeemer music pupils last evening at P. H. S. The pupils, under the direction of Miss Martha McGuirk, have accomplished much in technique, their work showing splendid training and careful preparation. Miss McGuirk was assisted by Miss Ellen Moiten of Alderson, W. Va., a young pianist of much charm, whose numbers were received with appreciative applause, to which she responded. The opening and closing numbers by the string orchestra, directed by M. Zulueta, were splendid, many of the members being quite young.

Perhaps the youngest performer was little Alberta Ward, who sang "Three Little Chestnuts" very sweetly, winning the audience immediately with her dainty presence. The gleeful songs were beautifully rendered, and each vocal and piano number was well worthy of the appreciation shown. The program included:

Spigot Economy And Bung Hole Prodigality, Says Baker

COLUMBUS, O., May 19.—Congressional failure to make sufficient appropriations for prohibition enforcement, necessitating a let-down for 40 days, was severely scored in a statement here today by Percy A. Baker, Westerville, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

"Spigot economy" and "a bung-hole prodigality," were terms used by him.

"Lack of appropriations, forcing the discharge of 700 inspectors, is a most colossal blunder," the statement declared.

"These men have the evidence of thousands of cases. The fines from convictions that surely would be made would turn back into the treasury funds sufficient to run the department for months."

"This is one blunder," the dry head declared, "at least that can not be charged up to Democrats."

Discharge of the inspectors for the period, Mr. Baker said, will mean the losing of a great deal of evidence.

"Guilty men will go free," the statement continued, "and the government will not get returns from an immense amount of expense and work already paid for."

"The reason for such a failure, when lawlessness is rampant in the country, is difficult to understand."

IS CONVINCED TALK IS NOT CHEAP

Mayor Sam Davis of New Boston has decided that traffic officer Dewey Parsons needs backing up in Court if any progress is to be made in breaking up speeding and other traffic violations.

Wednesday W. W. Weidner giving Portsmouth as his address was arrested for exceeding the speed limit on Rhodes avenue east and West avenue and was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Davis. The offender did not like the outcome of the case and in a few words told Mayor Davis so. His Honor then tacked a $20 fine for contempt of court.

Splendid Growth Shown By Presbyterian Church

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 19.—Hope that the church will continue to enjoy the great growth it has experienced during the last year, was expressed at the opening session today of the 133rd general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America here.

Dr. Samuel S. Palmer, of Columbus, Ohio, retiring moderator, in his sermon opening the assembly this morning, expressed satisfaction with the mark of 1,722,000 members attained last year and voiced his hope that the church might continue its gain.

Late this afternoon the election of a new moderator to succeed Dr. Palmer will mark the beginning of business sessions of the assembly.

Word was received today from William Jennings Bryant, commissioner from the Florida Presbytery, that he would not be able to attend the assembly until May 25. Mr. Bryant was one of the candidates prominently mentioned for moderator, but his late arrival precludes the possibility.

TELEPHONE LINEMEN CUT DOWN LANDMARK

The stately old elm tree, which for years had stood at the Elbow Locks, on the Towpath leading to the West Side, is no more.

The landmark was cut down yesterday by a gang of telephone men. The tree had been dead for some time. More than a hundred mice had made their homes in its base and they scattered to all directions when the tree toppled over.

DIED IN BELGIUM; BURIED IN LUCASVILLE

The body of Clarence Funk, son of James Funk of Lucasville, arrived at that place Wednesday evening and was taken from the N. & W. train to the Lucasville M. E. church, where services were held this afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. L. C. Godbey, pastor of the church, conducting the last rites. Members of Wm. A. Baker Post, American Legion, Lucasville, had charge of the funeral. Private Funk, who lived in Columbus when he entered the service, died in Belgium.

J. H. Brant of Lucasville is an uncle of the dead soldier, who was well known in Lucasville and community where the family lived a number of years.

Burial was in Lucasville cemetery.

Body Arrives; Funeral Monday

Following the receipt of a telegram late Wednesday afternoon, the body of Private Frank J. Lovey arrived in Portsmouth last night at 7:50 on the N. & W. train from Columbus. It was one of a number of Ohio bodies received at Columbus early yesterday from New York.

It was removed from the train to Undertaker Lynn's chapel, from which place it was moved to the home of Mrs. Caroline Lovey, the mother, on Dry Run, this afternoon.

Private Frank J. Lovey went to Camp Sherman in July, 1918, and was made a member of Co. C 233rd Infantry, 84th Division. On arrival overseas he was transferred to the 91st Division and was a member of that division when killed by the explosion of a shell.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock at the Holy Trinity Catholic church on Pond Creek with Father Henry Taske, of Otway, in charge.

Autos In Collision
Automobiles driven by Fred Schmidt of the firm of Schmidt-Watkins, a local plumbing firm, and Leo Ruggles were damaged considerably when they crashed into each other at Gallia and Union streets this morning. Miss Lucile Ingles and Miss Minnie Clark who were in the Ruggles machine, were thrown out by the force of the impact, but were only slightly injured. Ruggles is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruggles of Sixth street.

Sentence Passed
After hearing the evidence in the cases of Ray Buckley, and Sylvia Gayhart, couple arrested on statutory charges, Judge Sprague in Municipal court Thursday passed the cases for sentence until Friday and ordered the defendants held under $500 bond.

Buckley, who is a former deputy marshal and has a wife and two children living in that village, admitted his association with the Gayhart girl had covered a period of about a year. Buckley furnished bond and was released from custody.

Bomb Makers Den Is Found
CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—A bomb-maker's rendezvous was uncovered by police following the explosion early today of two bombs, which blew off the porch and shattered the front of the home of Vito Leanso, at Tennesse and disengaged a number of threatening letters demanding money and threatening to kill him unless he delivered it.

Three bombs, one the size of a watermelon, two bullet making, machines, two revolvers, two shotguns and fifteen pounds of dynamite were later found by police in a house not far from the scene of the explosion.

Four men and one woman, hounded by police to be members of an organized gang of black-handers, are being held by police.

Asks Harding To Support Waterways

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—President Harding is urged to lend his support in the development of inland waterways of the Mississippi valley and the west because of high rail transportation rates, in a letter from Former Representative B. F. Welty, of Ohio, made public today at the White House.

Mr. Welty announced at the same time that he had sought the aid of members of the senate and house to further such plans in congress.

Mr. Welty accompanied his letter with data giving a comparison of freight charges, water and rail, between various points in the United States. These figures, he declared, were conclusive evidence of the need of utilization of waterways not now being attended to. He called the president's attention to the expected early resumption of traffic on certain Ohio large canals and the effect it would have on the economic situation locally.

Wage War On Sunday Movies In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, May 19.—Every picture show proprietor operating his theatre on Sundays will be arrested, C. S. Olinger, representing the Clark County Ministerial Association, announced today, following a hearing in police court at which George Settos, theatre proprietor, entering a plea of "not guilty" to operating his show on Sunday, May 9.

Hearing will be held later. The affidavit against Settos came as a climax to a campaign of education that the ministerial association has been waging to have sentiment created in favor of closing picture shows and theatres on Sundays. Settos was represented in court by an attorney, who announced that they would fight the cases.

The picture show men organized several months ago, contemplating that the ministers would soon open their warfare against Sunday operation. They will fight every affidavit filed, it was announced.

Armed Men Steal Whiskey And Truck

CINCINNATI May 19.—Eight men, carrying revolvers, participated in the hold-up of an express truck loaded with 210 cases of whiskey. The truck was proceeding along Queen City avenue when a touring car, containing the robbers sped out of a side street and blocked the progress of the truck. They leaped out of the machine, pointed their revolvers at the driver of the vehicle and a guard, and made them dismount with hands above their heads. They were forced into the touring car and were driven away. The entire robbery occupied less than five minutes.

If Your Hair Is Thinning

Strengthening and enlarging the roots of the hair is one of the real ways to grow hair to grow. Something which has been tried and found to be the best. Merely stimulating the hair will not grow to the extent desired. By the use of the new method just mentioned hair can be forced to grow several inches a month. Hair will stop falling as if by magic. The new vigor of the hair will be quickly noticed, and all bald spots will be soon entirely filled out with new growth. This can be easily obtained by the use of the new method, which can be secured at any drug store in the original one-ounce package. It can be mixed at home with a half pint of bay rum and a half pint of water, or with witch hazel. It is a perfect hair tonic. It contains no oil whatever.

To Have the Arm, Pitt Soft and Smooth—Free from Itch.

You can be sure that there is but one sensible way to remove hairs from the arm pits and, in fact, from any part of the body. It is foolish to "burn" them off, injuring and spotting the skin. The new method will actually dissolve away the hairs completely, and leave the skin perfectly soft and smooth. It will not irritate the most delicate skin. Sulfur solution may be obtained at nearly any drug store.

Something Better Than Soap for a Head-Wash.

As to head-wash, you are advised against using soap or the many shampoos sold, because of the alkali they contain. This alkali sets up hair secretions. Get a package of egg yolks at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful of it in half a dozen cups of water. Wash your hair in this mixture. It is a perfect hair wash and will keep the scalp clean and healthy.

Your Manners

It Is Correct

When a young girl sends flowers to a man, she is ill-mannered. It is her mother's cards with her own. To leave cards of congratulation as soon after the event that occasioned them as possible.

When leaving cards for a friend who is ill, to write, "To inquire" on them.

When leaving cards of congratulation, to write at least the word, "Congratulations" on them.

For the recipient of cards and notes of condolence, to acknowledge them by a line of appreciation on mourning cards, or by engraved cards.

It Is Not Correct

To send P. O. cards when going on a short visit.

To capitalize more than the first letter of P. O. cards.

The leave cards of congratulation later than three or four days after the event that occasioned them.

For a woman with a long visiting list who pays calls by leaving cards at her friends' doors, to fail to do so promptly after receiving a personal call.

For a woman who leaves cards for a bachelor in acknowledgment of hospitality received, to inquire if he is at home.

Don't care for hot mice." Add Stubby shook his head in refusal of the offer. "I smell bread and butter," said Stubby, "and there must be some somewhere around here. The smell seems to come from the direction the wind is blowing. I think I will prow around a little and see if I can't find it."

So he got up and went smelling along the ground until he came to a large peach tree where he gave three short, quick yelps, which meant, "I have found it." And he came trotting back with a big slice of bread and butter and ham in his mouth.

It was a part of a sandwich a child had dropped that afternoon when playing tea-party under the tree. This was very acceptable, as Stubby was exceedingly hungry and now they each had something they liked to eat.

The sun went down and it grew darker and darker, but they did not stir until they saw lights begin to appear throughout the house. Then they knew the family were probably all in the house and there would be no danger in venturing nearer.

Stubby had sneaked up to the back door, and was trying to peek through a crack under it when it was suddenly opened and there in the lamp light stood a Chinaman.

Court News

A damage suit was filed against Mrs. Clara Alta Knauer for $5,000.00 on May 16th. Petition by Sarah Blake an infant by Helle Jackson and attends the public schools. That on March 3rd, 1921 she with her brother who is ten years of age, were on their way to school to her aunt's who lives near the car shops and when on Pearl street near Broadway, she saw the defendant sitting in an automobile and knowing that nearly every day Mrs. Knauer drove to the car shops the plaintiff and her brother asked her to let them ride with her over to the car shops and the defendant gave her permission and told her to stand upon the running board and to hold tight which she did. Just as they turned into Allen street from Chillicothe the child fell off and was badly injured. It is alleged making it necessary to take 17 stitches on the abdomen and 2 on the forehead, all alleged to be due to the careless driving of the defendant. Plaintiff alleges that she was confined to her bed, had her limbs strapped together for weeks, that bills were incurred of more than $100 and injuries are permanent. Judgment is asked for in the sum of $5,000. John Robbins is attorney for plaintiff.

In common pleas court last week the following arraignments on indictments were made: Alex Techer, powdering, plea of not guilty, bond of $1,000.

EIGHT PRISONERS AWAIT ELECTROCUTION

COLUMBUS, O., May 19.—Two men, one of whom was convicted of murder and sentenced to the electric chair were received at the Ohio Penitentiary here today, making the total number awaiting execution eight.

Frank Minto, Cleveland, found to be guilty in the Court of Judge Florence Allen of the murder of W. C. Sly in a pay-roll hold-up in Cleveland December 31 and Andrew Dary, Columbus, who pleaded guilty to having slain his wife, but nevertheless was given the death sentence, were the two men received today.

Dary is to be electrocuted August 26 and Minto August 29.

Warden Thomas said that neither in his memory, nor that of the oldest guard had two men been received on the same day for electrocution.

Messrs. Frank Wooten and W. C. Blovin have the contract of painting the Wiseman's Hall at Dundas, which they are now working on.

Messrs. Chester Burns and Charles McWilliams were McArthur business visitors Monday.

Messrs. John Egan and Ralph Wyckoff were in Wellston Monday on business.

Miss Yada Rice is sick at her home on Buffalo street, but not considered serious.

Supervisor E. Cole in Athens Tuesday, B. & O. officials, Superintendent R. W. Brown, Trainmaster R. Mallon, Division Engineer J. L. Maher of Chillicothe and Supervisor E. Cole of Athens were here Tuesday.

Ed Watters returned to his home in day.

Ingrown Nail Will Turn Out

Harding Wants Changes

force the present Trading With The Enemy Act so far as it affects German property held by the Alien property custodian.

Another suggested change is that the power of the Alien property custodian shall be continued not merely until the time of a treaty with Germany is ratified but "until such time as Congress shall have provided for such further sale and disposition pursuant to said treaty."

It is understood that Senator Knox is favorable to the amendments and probably would have made them when the measure was in the Senate except that the legal experts did not get them ready in time. There is no friction about it—no clash between President Harding and members of Congress but simply of the language of the resolution as so often happens when a bill passes one House and is up for final passage in the other House. Usually important bills are amended in the Senate but the Knox resolution was put through the upper house first and it was deemed desirable to rush it through without getting it tangled up in controversies.

Opposed to Repeal Clause

Nevertheless there is one point which has occasioned considerable comment and which has produced honest differences of opinion among the Republicans themselves. It is the phrase whereby the original declaration of war is repealed. A few Republican Senators and a large number of House Republicans seem to think there is no necessity for the repeal clause, because it may imply an apology or expression of regret and that a simple declaration of a state of peace is sufficient. Here is the text of the paragraph as it passed the Senate:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives that the joint resolution of Congress passed April 6, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the Imperial German government and the people of the United States of America, and making provision to prosecute the same, and said state of war is hereby declared at an end."

Think Phrase Superfluous

Chairman Porter of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs seems to feel that the repeal phrase is superfluous and might lead to legal tangles. Roy Rosenzweig, Mondak, House leader, shares that view. The fear is that in Germany may always look upon that repeal as an expression of regret or apology or change of heart on the part of the United States. Heretofore wars have come to an end without repealing any war legislation. The ratification of a treaty has automatically ended the state of war. That's why so many members of Congress feel that it is sufficient merely to declare the war ended and a state of peace begun. Although President Harding hasn't expressed any views, there is reason to believe he would prefer to have the repeal clause eliminated.

States. He developed a specialty for questions of interstate commerce, and his contribution to the law of the land probably will be a permanent one.

He was born in the parish of Lafourche, La., November 3, 1845. His parents were Catholics, and he was of that faith. His education was in Catholic institutions. ### HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not work. A neighbor recommended your medicine and I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work, and I recommend your medicine to my friends."

ANNA RIMKUS, R. R. No. 8, Springfield, Ill.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when ease after ease is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health? For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

Confederate army during the civil war, practiced law among the people of Louisiana, and became a sugar planter on its lowlands. His ability and high character were recognized by the people in repeated commissions as a public official. In 1874, he was elected as senator in the Louisiana legislature. Four years later, he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the state.

In 1891, Mr. White became a national figure. A senatorial contest was waged in Louisiana, and he entered the race. He had managed the campaign of Governor Nichols, for reelection and had been prominent in the reform movement of Louisiana. He had fought vigorously in favor of the anti-slavery movement. The legislature finally chose him to succeed Senator Eustis.

Distinguishes Himself

Chief Justice White was in the senate three years before he was elevated to the bench of the supreme court of the United States by President Cleveland, in 1894. During that period, he distinguished himself on two occasions. Once was in the debate on the Anti-Option Law, when Senator White made a profound legal argument against the constitutionality of the measure. The other occasion was during the struggle over the repeal of the Sherman Act, when he advocated the views of President Cleveland. His nomination to the bench ended a memorable contest in the senate. Two New Yorkers had been nominated by President Cleveland, but both failed of confirmation. Throwing to the winds the custom which for eighty-eight years had kept a New York man on the bench, Mr. Cleveland named Senator White. He was confirmed within an hour.

Almost as unusual as his appointment as associate justice was his elevation to the chief justiceship. In 1910, when President Taft despatched by various factions of the Republican party to appoint first this man and then that to succeed Chief Justice Fuller, the president boldly disregarded the custom regarding the selection of justices from his own party and that precedent favoring the promotion of an associate justice to the chief justiceship, and sent to the senate the nomination of Justice White. His nomination was confirmed immediately.

COURT HOUSE

Court Thrown Into Upset

The probate office was thrown into an upset Thursday morning when Judge Gilliland ordered John Smith, 62 years old and his wife, Mary Smith, aged 30 years, of 1120 Sixteenth street, to the county jail for contempt. Mrs. Smith, who carried an infant in her arms, screamed and fought like a tigress when it was sought to separate her from her older child, 4 years old, and it was with considerable difficulty she was overpowered by the officers and led to the prison.

Two weeks ago the parents were cited to appear in court to meet complaints of neglecting their children, but the night before the hearing it developed Mrs. Smith took her child and fled to Kentucky and only returned a day or two ago. She assumed a defiant attitude when she appeared in court today, refusing to promise to come back Friday, to which time Judge Gilliland desired to continue the hearing. The court later suspended that part of the order committing Smith, who is suffering from tuberculosis and he was released. The case will again come up for hearing Friday morning.

Application Filed
An application for the appointment of an administrator for the estate of the late J. W. Hornung, who died May 21, 1915, at his home in this city, was filed in probate court Thursday by Attorney H. I. Small.

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, just as you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses without soreness or irritation.

The estate has an estimated value of $4,000, represented solely by realty, consisting of a house and lot situated at 1821 Eighth street, which was left to the widow, Seloto V. Hornung, and two children.

Suit In Foreclosure

George W. Maull seeks judgment for $800, alleged balance due on a promissory note, with interest from August 7, 1920, in an action filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Sartin and Emma Green.

He also asks that a mortgage on real estate given to secure payment of the note be foreclosed and the property covered by the mortgage, consisting of a house and lot on Robinson avenue, this city, and a 140-acre farm in Harrison township be sold to pay his claim. The plaintiff sued through Attorney G. W. Sheppard.

Pennington Ordered Released

When James Pennington, 21 years old, former machinist's helper at the N. & W. shops, was sentenced to jail a few days ago on a charge of petit larceny in connection with the theft of tools from the N. & W. Railway company, he left his young wife and infant child in destitute circumstances. Judge Thomas, on learning of the distressed condition of the wife and child, was not only moved to order the release from custody of the erring husband, but he headed a subscription paper which was passed about the courthouse and a day's sum raised and given to the mother to buy necessities. The court suspended the remainder of Pennington's prison sentence and gave him time in which to pay the $100 fine and costs imposed.

Default Judgment

An entry awarding default judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $66.35 in the suit of the Toledo Scale company against Charles Murphy, was filed in the office of the clerk of courts Thursday. According to the entry the court also made a finding that a chattel mortgage held by the plaintiff is a valid and subsisting lien on a pair of computing scales which are ordered sold to pay the claim.

To Employ Surveyor

According to an entry filed in the office of the clerk of courts Thursday the case of Andrew Pitts against John Sturgill has been continued for further proceedings by agreement to give the parties an opportunity to employ a surveyor to establish the boundary line between their premises situated in the Kehoe addition, Wheelersburg. The suit was brought to settle the dispute.

Pair Released

George Helt, Seventh street young man, who was sent to jail a few days ago from Municipal court on a minor charge, was released from custody Thursday on the order of Judge Sprague, who also ordered the release of Howard Davis, who was committed on his conviction of a charge of petit larceny.

PAY UP IS WIRTH'S PLAN

BERLIN, May 13.—(By the Associated Press)—To keep right up to date with its reparation obligations or even a good bit ahead is declared in creditable quarters to be the ambition of the cabinet of Chancellor Wirth, which is now speeding activities in the various ministries in a general effort to get them familiarized with the ramifications and technical features of the allied ultimatum and reparation terms, which Germany has accepted.

Dr. Wirth, through the foreign office, of which he is temporarily the head, has impressed upon all the governmental departments the urgent need for a coordinated effort, primarily for the purpose, it was stated, "of producing an atmosphere of confidence" in dealings with the entente. The lack of this previously, it is conceded now, has been the chief cause of Germany's discredit with the allies "during the reparation controversy."

The new chancellor, who has not yet reached the middle forties, is astonishing his colleagues with the political acumen and industry he has displayed since becoming the head of the government, it is declared by observers of current governmental activities.

Memorial Day Parade To Be Inspiring Event

The annual Memorial Day parade to be held Monday, May 30, is expected to be one of the biggest events of its kind ever held under the auspices of the patriotic organizations of the city.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET—AH!

"Tiz" is Grand for Aching, Swollen, Tender, Calloused Feet or Corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet, no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness, in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried with-out getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that drenches out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for a few cents. Think of it!—adv.

kind ever held under the auspices of the patriotic organizations of the city. The arrangements are being looked after this year by the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps, Spanish War Veterans' Auxiliary and Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary.

The Memorial Day Committee, of which J. Earl Chandler is secretary, would like to hear from all other organizations that would like to take part in the Decoration Day parade and exercises. The different fraternal bodies that have organized degree teams are expected to turn out in full uniform for the parade. All such lodges should get in touch with Secretary J. Earl Chandler this week, or not later than Monday, so the committee can make assignments. Secretary Chandler may be reached by calling Home phone 183.

Chorus Meets Tonight

The Men's chorus of the Second Presbyterian church will meet for rehearsal this Thursday evening at 7:30 in the basement of the church. Every man of the congregation and Bible class of the Sunday school is invited to become a member of the chorus. H. H. Meade is the conductor.

USE IODINE FOR SKIN IRRITATIONS

Pimples and Blemishes Vanish

If people would only have Iodine in the home at all times for a family remedy, they would nip in the bud many serious afflictions and always have an antiseptic and healing remedy for everyday accidents and ailments, says a woman who speaks after many years' experience in raising a large family.

"Take Eczema, for instance," she says, "we used to call it St. Anthony's fire when I was young. The red, irritated swollen skin, the itching and burning are maddening, and Iodine is the remedy." Physicians are practically unanimous in recommending Iodine. They prefer it in its best form—Lanolin Iodine Compound—which is soothing, healing and powerful, yet never irritates or blisters, and is practically stainless. It is quickly absorbed into the tissues and glands, usually giving prompt relief.

Jas. A. Hager, Fisher and Streich have this agreeable Iodine ointment and gladly recommend it as it gives unusual satisfaction. Be sure to get Lanolin Iodine for best results.

Some More House Furnishing Specials for Friday and Saturday

Every week end sees our house furnishing store offering some timely specials for the home. For this week we call your attention to four items, all worthy of your consideration. Our great third floor store of household goods has long been the mecca for housekeepers. They have learned of the economies to be effected by placing this department on their regular shopping lists. Tomorrow we offer:

Double-Quick Ice Cream Freezers At $3.69 and $4.49

Tub or pail is made of white cedar, wood, securely held together by heavy, grooved-in wires, will not shrink, rot or fall down. All metal parts heavily trimmed and galvanized—rust proof. The inside can be revolved after the dasher has been removed, which guarantees trim and smooth ice cream.

Tall style tub makes room for ice on top, which keeps cream hard and firm as long as you wish.

All Steel Waste Paper Baskets At $1.00 and $1.25

These are not wire baskets that soon get mashed or out of shape, but are made entirely of steel, all one piece, nicely enameled, will not rust nor grow shabby looking. They have solid steel bottoms that cannot come loose and rattle, and the tops flare to a diameter equal to the height of the basket. These baskets are extremely strong and durable and are fine for office, factory or home use.

The height is 12 inches, diameter at the bottom is 9 inches and at the top, 12 inches.

MAHOGANY OR GREEN BASKETS, $1.00. White $1.25

Market Baskets at 39c, 55c and 69c

These are made of wood splint with strong wound-all-round handles. Many beautiful colors. These baskets come in three different sizes at the special prices of 39c, 55c and 69c.

Auto Shopping Baskets

These are 14 inches long, 9 inches high and 8 1-2 inches wide and are made with strong handles. These baskets are prettily colored and for the one dollar value, we are now asking only 69c.

SHANTYBOAT RAIDED; ARRESTS MADE

IRONTON, May 19.—Chief of Police Massie, Officers Kendall and Brannigan made a raid yesterday afternoon on a family boat moored to the Ohio shore below Hanging Rock, arresting John Slusher, a D. T. & I. employee, a girl named Ethel DeHagen and Jack Hughes, all of whom will be charged with liquor law violations after the finding of a copper moonshine still and about a quart of moonshine liquor on the boat. When the officers reached the boat there were no occupants save the DeHagen girl but Slusher came while they were there and both were placed under arrest. Jack Hughes, who is accused of being the owner of the boat, was arrested later on the river bank here by Chief Massie and Officer Brannigan.

Buy Lumber Business

CHILLICOTHE, May 19.—The Collier Lumber Company with headquarters at Westerville, Ohio, has purchased the lumber business of D. C. Marshall on South Paint street.

It will be known as The Chillicothe Lumber Co. and will be in charge of one of the stockholders, J. M. Bell.

The proposal for a reduction was submitted to the local street car men's union by President W. Kesley Schoepf, of the traction company.

According to sentiment expressed among the men, indications are that they will vote in favor of accepting the proposition. If they should reject it, the matter will be submitted to arbitration on July 1. The present wages range from 51 to 59 cents an hour, for motormen and conductors, and the proposed reduction is to a minimum of 45 cents and a maximum of 50 cents.

Luxuries in Less Demand. There's a vast difference between eating to live and living to eat. This is being discovered by a great many people. In a measure discovery accounts for lessening demand for luxuries yet doesn't supply the funds, for necessities. One can't spend dollars and have them too.—Grit.

Game Tonight
Retailers vs. Gilbert Grocery Co.

By far the best three games played so far this week in the Municipal League was the one staged between the Standard Supply Company and Vulcan Last Company last night when the former won out 8 to 2. The Standard Supply have a real team this year and have started out like they mean business, although their victory last night was not an easy one. Heavy hitting in the same inning with untimely errors caused the downfall of the Vulcans who showed lack of practice. The work of the winners indicated that they had been practicing hard for several weeks. The Standard teamwork throwing to bases and hard pounding of the ball showed that they have an organization that will be fighting all the way.

The winners secured their big lead off Phillips who retired in the second in favor of "Smoke" McCall who twirled good ball after he settled down. Chabot pitched a good game for the winners. Home runs by Brennan and Monk, a shoestring catch by Kendall and a double play by the Vulcans were the features of the game. The box score:

Southworth Is Liked

(Boston Herald)
Charley Doyle, a Pittsburgh sport writer, was asked while here this week how the Pirates happened to let Southworth go, since he probably is as good, if not better, than other outfielders the club had.

"The club had to have a shortstop," said he. "It wanted Maraville, in fact, it felt it had to have him. It was well protected in the outfield and so Mr. Dreyfuss made an offer which he knew the Boston club could not refuse."

"Do not make any mistake," he continued, "we Pittsburghers know very well what a great player and splendid character the Boston club acquired in Southworth. Everybody at home loved him, as they will in Boston when they come to know him."

They are getting to know him all right, and they love him already. They like his style. Every move he makes on the ball field is made as if he meant business, and on the field and off he is a gentleman.

STATE MAY MEET CALIFORNIA AT HOME

COLUMBUS, O., May 19.—Local newspapers today published a story that the University of California football team is to be invited to play Ohio State's eleven this fall on Ohio field here. The statement is made that no official action has yet been taken, however.

California defeated Ohio State, champions of the western conference, in a football game at Pasadena, Cal., last New Year's day.

To Tell It All

CHICAGO, May 19.—Reports from the east verified here today at the office of Judge George F. Barrett, special counsel for the national baseball commission, are to the effect that Abe Attell, former feather-weight champion, is about to tell all he knows of the 1919 world's series scandal. Attell is making overtures to State's Attorney R. S. Crowe to turn state's evidence, it is said, and meanwhile the requisition papers for Attell issued last Saturday by Governor Small, are being held up.

William Burns, former major league player, who is said to have acted as the "go-between" for the gamblers and players named in the indictments brought here, is said to be a frequent visitor to the offices of Judge Barrett, and has explained all he knows of the alleged "fixing" of the 1919 series.

Memorial Is Planned

CHICAGO, May 19.—Directors of the American league, in session here now, have voted a fund for a memorial to the late "Silk" O'Loughlin, one of the most famous of major league umpires. The site and nature of the memorial are still under discussion, and the size of the fund will depend somewhat on those details, it was said today. The "strike club" of O'Loughlin was famous throughout American league parks for years, and it was said the decisions of O'Loughlin received fewer protests from players than any other league umpire.

OFF TO A BAD START

BOTH Democrats and Republicans have filed suits in the supreme court, having for their end the calling of a referendum on the bill making a consolidation of state offices and departments.

This bill was the pet measure of Governor Davis. In theory it has much measure and ought to lose nothing in honest practical application. This makes it all the more unfortunate, that out of eagerness that circumstances did not seem to warrant, Davis drove it through the assembly, with an emergency clause, that violates the spirit of the constitution.

There is no apparent reason why he should have thus placed a club in the hands of his opponents making the defeat of the measure certain, if the court should hold there was no such emergency as the constitution contemplates, present in its enactment. For it is certain that if the measure gets before the people in the form of a referendum, it will be voted down.

Not at all that there is lack of merit in it, but because the voters are set generally against any matter sent to their referendum, and especially in this instance being prejudiced by the contemptuous manner in which it is attempted to foist something upon them.

Had Governor Davis permitted the legislature to go about this particular statute in an orderly and usual way there would, in all human probability be no outcry at all and it would have been suffered to become the law without protest.

He started wrong to a seemingly good end and disappointment to him is the near probability.

RIGHT AND UNRIGHTOUSNESS

WHERE a man dies and leaves property in several states, subject to local inheritance laws, the United States court holds that each state can collect the amount fixed by its inheritance laws and there shall be no deduction therefrom because the federal law happens along first and carves a huge hunk for itself.

That is good law, or rather a sound interpretation of the law and it is excellent logic. The laws begin to operate on the estate at the owner's death, not a moment later; therefore its value is fixed then and not by future deductions.

But that it is just another and diametrically different matter. An inheritance law isn't taxation, it is not an equal burden placed upon all possessions, it is a confiscation of property, "without due process of law," penalize one man because he is so foolish as to die, after having been industrious, prudent and sagacious enough to accumulate a fortune while alive.

The man's property was subjected to ordinary and equal taxation and burden by government although his life time process of acquiring and accumulation in equal and fair proportion with all other property and presumably it so paid, but because it was heaped in larger measure than a fixed limit below, it must, perforce have additional tax and burden placed against it.

That is unrighteous and unrighteousness never profits, even in taxation. Notice and you will see that every time a government gets into financial stress, where it thinks it has to impose an inheritance tax, it never pulls out, but unerringly goes from bad to worse.

To be sure the outlaws in the West Virginia coal mines has got to a point where it impends a crisis.

There you are, just as we expected, the senate wants an army of 175,000 and that only 8,000 less than the late Secretary Baker was charged with sending the country to the demimition bowwows by the mere proposal. Those Republicans never suspect how shrewd Baker is. He asked for more than he thought necessary, guessing congress would cut it down to about the right size to keep from approving anything he proposed. It did that very thing too, at the start, but now it is coming back to larger and extravagant figures.

The governor of Kentucky says to the governor of West Virginia, it is a long time between the asking for and the coming of those federal troops; the governor of West Virginia says to the governor of Kentucky let us ask for them with one voice. And they do but the troops don't.

Everybody is still talking about what a fine man and wonderful speaker Bryan is. Yes, it was always his fortune to get much praise and few votes.

Oh, to be sure the Republicans are the only ones smart enough to run the country. That's why they muddle up the state tax question and then quit in disgust with themselves, as was everybody else.

That it is not worse lot us be thankful. The frost predicted for Monday night didn't materialize.

If you think there is nothing doing about Portsmouth call a dozen men to meet you at a given hour and find out how many find it impossible to be there because of prior engagements.

Kills Mountain Lion.

Omigars, when hungry, will sometimes tackle a porcupine for a meal, and always with the result of sticking the mucous membrane of the mouth full of quills, from the wounds of which death is almost sure to come. When I was with an expedition in the Big Horn mountains, a fine mountain lion was found dead; upon examination it was soon ascertained that it has been the victim of an experience of this kind.—American Forestry Magazine.

Simple and Convincing.

Film actresses work hard. They may not have late nights, but they have early mornings and they are often up while other folks are turning over in bed for another nap. "What do you do in your leisure?" a cinema actress was asked. "Nothing," she replied. "How sensible," was the rejoinder. "It isn't sense, it's necessity. I never do anything in my leisure, because I never have any leisure to do it in."

Men and Women.

Man cannot degrade woman without himself falling into degradation; he cannot elevate her without at the same time elevating himself.—Alexander Walker.

European Travel Today

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—After six long years, Europe is again to entertain the American tourist on a large and lavish scale. School teachers, students, literary, and all the other types of travelers are planning to spend their money abroad this summer.

The reasons are several. To the usual cultural advantages of European travel there are now added the attractions of alcohol, and of rates of exchange which make the American dollar look considerably larger than it does in this country. Also, Europe has changed in the years of war, and many people who would never care to view the same landmark or scenic effect twice are going over again to bring their conversation up-to-date. Finally, business men are said to be less rushed with work this year, so that they have time to run over to Europe, as they used to in the days of normalcy.

Altogether, Europe is going to be popular again. It is difficult now to book passage on the big steamers for any time this summer. In fact, far-sighted people tell us they began to make arrangements for this year's vacation as soon as they unpacked their trunks at home last September.

The steamship companies go so far as to claim that Europe will receive more tourists this summer than in 1913. And even at that the number will be limited by the shipping facilities. The companies are not in a position to add to their passenger fleets materially this year. They, as well as European business men, have had reason to regret the suspension of tourist transportation. Their ships have been used as cattle boats, freighters, and transports. This has meant expensive repairs in almost every case before the ship could be used for passenger accommodation again. To take one instance, the Aeolus, which was converted into a freighter, is said to have been laid up nine months in dry dock for repairs aggregating $3,000,000.

Passages High
Those prospective tourists who are promised passage this summer, are no doubt concluding that Europe may be cheaper to travel in than this country, but an ocean voyage tends to gobble up the difference. First class passage that once cost $120, now sells for about $250, and other rates are correspondingly elevated.

Passports, too, seem to have acquired lasting favor with governments as revenue material, and are still demanded of tourists at the remittance rate, to the government, of $10 per red tape thrown in. Passport red tape is not so rigorous and tiresome as it has been, though it still takes two or three weeks to obtain papers.

Once the tourist gets to Europe, he may or may not be able to save any money. England is notably an expensive place now, even with the English pound worth a little less than three dollars, instead of its normal $4.86. According to the Department of Commerce, living costs in England have not fallen to any extent since the war. A few commodities tend to drop as in this country, but to offset the reductions rents have risen and travel is more expensive with no immediate prospect of much lower fares.

In Norway and Sweden, likewise, the rate of exchange is not sufficiently in our favor to do more than offset the heavy increases in living costs. Economy for the traveler is impossible, we are told, in northern Europe.

As for Switzerland and France, an experienced traveler, recently returned, says that these countries offer satisfactory accommodations in the first class hotels, and with the franc at a little over eight cents instead of nineteen, the American has a distinct advantage. He thinks, however, that it is not possible to expect to save money even here. The first class hotels have been renovated and are as good as they ever were. But when it comes to the pensions, or boarding houses, the situation is different from in the old days. Before the war it was possible to obtain a room and excellent meals in a Swiss pension for as low as one dollar a day. Now the rate is higher, and the food is very different. Butter and meat are scarce. Course bread is served. Economy is still rampant in these small hostilities, just as it is in private homes.

Italy is looked to by many of the tourists as the place where the American tourist will see the longest. And this is no doubt true. Passenger rates have increased over 200 percent and hotel and restaurant prices are 200 and 300 percent higher. But the lira has decreased 40 percent, so that it is worth only five cents against its standard value of nineteen cents.

Hospitable Italy
Italy is said to be in good shape to receive visitors. Hotels have been done over and many supplied with the American luxuries of modern heating plants and bathing facilities.

In general, the traveler may expect to find that while travel in Europe is cheaper than travel in this country, it is every bit as expensive as staying at home. Everywhere the tourist goes, there are unexpected demands for money. Taxes are as prevalent there as here. The luxury tax is even extended in some places to take in meals on trains and in restaurants. While in Germany, a foreigner is regarded as a source of taxation merely because he is a foreigner. His meals are higher, and he is taxed wherever he goes as an exotic, unnecessary being.

Except for the Rhineland and other parts in allied control Germany is not an easy country now for the tourist to visit. In fact, all of the central European countries offer more difficulties in the way of passports and visas, and they are not recognized for the tourist trade as western Europe is.

Belgium, France, and Italy have pulled themselves together for visitors more rapidly than it was thought possible they could. Much of the railroad, tracking wrecked during the war has been rebuilt, and trains have been renovated. The battlefields have been made easily accessible by trains and bus lines, and inns and hotels have sprung up all along the routes. Souvenirs, post cards, everything that is used to tempt to wait is again on sale.

Bargains in these things are scarcely to be expected. The tourist everywhere is always a legitimate prey for the natives. Last year the French dealers and innkeepers put up their prices so needlessly that the French government sent out a notice—"Don't treat the tourists as some of you treated the American soldiers." In justice, however, it should be said that there have been tourists who did not hesitate to pass off cigar coupons for American paper money on unsuspecting peasants.

Before the war, American sight-seers were spending $175,000,000 in Europe every year. The loss of this has made a large hole in the pockets of tradespeople and guides, who depended on the tourists for their living. Now, they expect a return of the old reckless spending. And they will probably not hope in vain. The tourists are coming.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

LEW SHANK

After seven years of comparative obscurity Lew Shank, of Indianapolis, has returned to the limelight. He is the Republican candidate for mayor of the Hoosier Capital, having won with a good margin of votes to spare at the recent primaries. During Shank's four years (less five weeks) as mayor of Indianapolis there was "something doing every minute."

His reign was more spectacular than his abdication office, when in the midst of a street car strike, with the teamsters threatening to strike in sympathy, he stepped down and out, saying: "The darn thing worried me so, by golly, that I couldn't get a decent night's rest." The business men were threatened impeachment proceedings if he did not avert the strike.

After resigning as mayor, in November, 1913, Shank went in vaudeville, his act being entitled "The Cost of High Living and the High Cost of Living."

During his term of office Shank won national fame by his assault on the high cost of living. His personally conducted cut price of potatoes, poultry, mince meat and walnuts in the city's public market reduced living costs.

Shank's schooling was limited. He never reached the eighth grade. Before entering politics he was in turn a dog dancer, a yeast salesman, and an auctioneer.

How's Valuable Dream.
Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, when thinking out ideas stuck fast at the needle. He could not imagine a needle except with its eye at the heel, and it would not work. He might have failed altogether if he had not dreamt that he was making a machine for the king of a tribe of savages. In his dream the king gave him twenty-four hours to complete his task. The penalty was death. He worked and puzzled, but in vain, and he was led to the place of execution by warriors bearing spears pierced near the head. Instantly Howe saw how he could complete his invention and awoke.

What Have We Done Today?

(Nixon Waterman)

We shall do so much in the years to come.

But what have we done today?

We shall give our gold in a princely sum.

But what did we give today?

We shall lift the heart and dry the tear.

We shall plant a hope in the place of fear.

We shall speak the words of love and cheer.

But what did we speak today?

We shall be so kind in the after-while.

But what have we been today?

We shall bring to each lonely life a smile.

But what have we brought today?

We shall give to truth a deeper birth.

And to steadfast faith a deeper worth.

We shall feed the hungering souls of earth.

But whom have we fed today?

We shall reap such joys in the by and by.

But what have we sown today?

We shall build our mansions in the sky.

But what have we built today?

This sweet in idle dreams to bask.

But here and now do we do our task?

Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask.

"What have we done today?"

A Modern Machine

The engineer had become tired of the boisterous talk he heard from the other engine drivers at his boarding house. One morning he began:

"This morning I went over to see a new machine we've got at our place, and it's astonishing how it works."

"And how does it work?" asked one.

"Well," was the reply, "by means of a pedal attachment, a fulcrum lever converts a vertical reciprocating motion into a circular movement. The principal part of the machine is a large disc that revolves in a vertical plane. Power is applied through the axis of the disc, and work is done on the periphery, and the hardest steel by mere impact, may be reduced to any shape."

"What is this wonderful machine?" was asked.

"A grindstone," was the reply.

Would You So

"I see a girl was afflicted with a talking ailment."

"I should have thought the doctor could have cured that my making her put out her tongue."

A Good Judge Needed

A milkman in a country town was brought before the local court to answer a charge of adulteration.

"You are charged," said the magistrate, "with selling adulterated milk."

"What does the color of the sky, hence on a bright day the sea will look blue, on a cloudy day it will look gray, and at night it looks black. The green color occurs where the water is shallow, either near the shore or out further where there is a sand bar or other shallow places. In such places the sunlight strikes the water at such an angle that the rays go in the bottom and are reflected back to the surface of the water. The light is changed through a combination of the color of the bottom at that point and the color of the sky itself."

Have you anything to say in answer to the charge?"

"Well, your honor," replied the milkman, "the night before it was raining very hard and the only cause I can give is the cow must have got wet through."

As Mother Does

Father—Byrnie, now that mamma is ill you must go and do the shopping just as she would if she were well.

Little Girl—Shall I spend more than you can afford?

Gr-r-r!

Archie had just returned home after leaving college—by request. Far from providing a fatted calf for the prodigal son, father, started out to tell him just what he thought of him. He had just got through with describing the fifty-seven varieties of seaphead he believed his offspring to be when the entrance of the office manager interrupted the scene.

"Well, well, Archie!" said the last heartily. "Glad to see you back. How you've grown! You're getting more and more like your father every day."

"So Dad was just saying," replied Archie sweetly.

The Poor Dears

The ladies were talking in the humorously indolent way in which they usually tackle the topic of husbands.

"John is perfectly helpless without me," said Mrs. A. "I don't know what would become of him if I left him for a week."

"Isn't it the truth?" sighed Mrs. C. "You'd think my husband was a child the way I have to take care of him. Why, whenever he is mending his clothes or sewing on buttons or even darned his socks, I always have to thread the needle for him!"

Questions AND Answers

Q. When is Father's Day, and who originated the idea? H. B. H.
A. The third Sunday in June has been set aside as Father's Day. Mrs. John Bruce Dodd was the founder of this day and the Y. M. C. A. and Ministerial Association of Spokane, Washington, brought her idea to the attention of the people throughout the country. Father's Day was first celebrated in Spokane in 1910, and proved such a success that in 1914 Congress recognized Father's Day as a national institution. A colored rose is worn for a living father, and a white one for one who is dead.

Q. What causes a hen to lay soft eggs? J. B.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that a soft egg is due to lack of lime in the hens system. Add oyster shells and lime to the feed.

Q. How many bookstores are there in the United States? H. B.
A. With a population of more than 100,000,000, this country has only about 1,500 book stores.

Q. Was "Faithful Emily" an real or fictitious character? R. E. K.
A. Emily Faithfull was an English philanthropist, born at Headley Rectory, Surrey, in 1835. An advocate of remunerative employment for women, she did much to secure it for them. She founded a printing establishment—the Victoria Press—in London in 1860 in which she employed women as compositors. This undertaking met with great opposition, but Queen Victoria showed her approval by appointing Miss Faithfull "Publisher in Ordinary to Her Majesty." She visited America in 1872-73 and in 1882. She was the founder of the Victoria Magazine and wrote "Three Visits to America." She died at Manchester, England, May 31, 1893.

Q. How much water does it take to dissolve granulated sugar? W. J. H.
A. Loaf sugar, rock candy, or granulated sugar will dissolve in about half its weight of cold water, and is soluble in less than this amount of hot water.

Q. Do savages commit suicide? G. A. N.
A. While suicide is not unknown among uncivilized peoples, it is uncommon.

Q. What are Sunday letters? G. S. L.
A. Sunday of dominical letters are the first seven letters of the alphabet, used in calendars to mark the Sundays throughout the year. If the year comes in on Sunday, "A" will be the dominical letter for the year. If the fourth of January is Sunday, the dominical letter will be "D."

Q. What makes the ocean change color? M. H.
A. The sea reflects the color of the sky, hence on a bright day the sea will look blue, on a cloudy day it will look gray, and at night it looks black. The green color occurs where the water is shallow, either near the shore or out further where there is a sand bar or other shallow places. In such places the sunlight strikes the water at such an angle that the rays go in the bottom and are reflected back to the surface of the water. The light is changed through a combination of the color of the bottom at that point and the color of the sky itself.
